VOL. XI. No. 9. ELECTION TERM, 1920. Price 1s. 6d.

VALETE AMICI.

Another school year has passed and we, the unlucky few, find ourselves at last dreading to leave the quiet and happy port of school life for the stormy seas of the outer world. The last term goes so quickly that we hardly realise that our school career is finished and done with.

Our fathers have told us many times that the best part of our life is at school, but how often do we believe them? It is only when we come to our last term or two that we realise what a perfect and joyous life it is at school. It is then that we realise to the full what we are leaving behind us, and it is a sad thought that never can we pass through the pleasures and pains of school life again.

Still worse does it seem to leave the House, the House for which we have worked and played for so long a while. Love for one's House is always much greater than love for the school. At least, they are of different kinds. One is keen for the school, but one is much keener for the House. There is so much more personal interest in the House. The community is smaller and therefore there is much more chance of personally doing something for the House. A true Grantite's thoughts are for ever turning to its former glories and his one desire is to keep them untarnished.

So when we look with wistful gaze for the last time on all the familiar haunts which have been our home for so long, when we say good-bye to our old friends and wonder whether we shall see any of them again, when we think of the life we have had here and turn our gaze to the unknown sea of the future, it is not strange that our eyes become misty and that we have to shake our heads to keep a stiff upper lip. No: it is no joy to bid such an eternal farewell to Grant's; it is the tearing of a child from its mother.

But there are other feelings which intermingle with our sorrow, a feeling of great gratitude to Grant's and all that she has done for us, a feeling that can never pass away. Also we feel that though we are leaving Grant's, the same spirit will always live and that the old traditions will be carried on in the distant future by those who come after us. And there is an impulse within us that gives vent to its feelings in that time-honoured and famous word, Floreat.

THE ATHLETIC SPORTS.

The Athletic Sports were held up Fields last term on March 24th, 26th and 27th. We were again unsuccessful, gaining only eight points. G. P. Stevens, upon whom we were relying to win the high jump again and possibly the long jump, unluckily hurt his ankle and was unable to secure a place in either. He scored, however, our only win in an open event in Throwing the Hammer with a magnificent throw of 87 ft. 6½ ins. Other points were gained by L. S. London, who was second in the Junior 100 yards; M. S. Murphy, second in the Junior Cricket Ball; and R. N. Nathan, second in the Junior Quarter-Mile. An Inter-House Relay Race was instituted, each team consisting of four, who had to run 100 yards, 220 yards, 220 yards and a quarter-mile respectively. Our team, which just missed securing the third place, consisted of D. S. F. Vernon, S. F. P. Jacomb-Hood, G. T. Swann and H. T. Abady, who ran in that order.

In the Tug of War we were dogged by ill-fortune, four of the heaviest members of the team being unable to tug, owing to illness and other reasons. Rigaud's, whom we drew in the first round, were within three inches of winning the first pull, when Grant's rallied and won it and the succeeding pull without further difficulty. In the finals we were matched against Ashburnham, who were many stones heavier and pulled us over fairly easily. Our team was as follows:—G. P. Stevens, F. C. De Kay, H. T. Abady, D. S. F. Vernon, S. F. P. Jacomb-Hood and J. R. Rea, being swung by P. J. S. Bevan (Capt.).

The prizes were then distributed by Mrs. Costley-White.

WATER.

This year saw several innovations introduced into the House Races, the races being rowed, for the first time, in clinker instead of tub-fours, and the course being lengthened from a thousand yards to a mile. And in addition to this only five practices were allowed to each House before the first races. Although these changes did not much affect a crew such as Home Boarders, who were all School Colours, they did present a very serious outlook to a scratch crew like Grant's, only two members of which had ever previously rowed in a clinker boat. Moreover, C. O. Mounsey, one of the heaviest members of the boat, was unable to row, his place being taken by J. A. Brownell, who had only just taken up Water. However, we made the best use of the short time available to us for practices, and under the able coaching of Major Shaw, we had made considerable progress by the day of the first race. It is sincerely to be hoped that next year a longer time will be allowed for practising; it is impossible to get a scratch crew together in so short a time or to attain any rowing speed; indeed, this year we were unable to find time for rowing a practise course.

The first round was rowed at 3.30 p.m. on Wednesday, July 14th, the course being from the Mile Post to the Varsity Stone, at Putney Bridge. Our opponents were Ashburnham, a considerably stronger crew, having two Pinks rowing for them. They won the toss for both station and boats, and chose the Surrey station, but fortunately left us the boat in which we had been practising. Ashburnham made the better start and drew slightly ahead, but Grant's, rowing at a high rate of striking, were level by the tenth stroke, and were well ahead at the end of the first minute. Just past Beverley Brook, Ashburnham spurted, and came up a length, and for a few moments it looked as though they would pass us. Grant's, however, answered their spurt, and by rowing all out over the last part of the course, drew well ahead, and won a hard race by $3\frac{1}{2}$ lengths.

In the final, which was rowed over the same course at 4.45 p.m. on Friday, 16th, we were matched against Home Boarders, an extremely strong and heavy crew, all of them being School Colours. We again lost the toss for boats and station, our opponents choosing the boat to which we were accustomed, and the Middlesex station. As far as the Football Ground the water was very bad, especially on the Surrey side, owing to a strong wind blowing from the Middlesex shore. Home Boarders drew away from us at the start, but cox steered a good course, taking full advantage of the tide round the bend, and, getting into smoother water opposite the Thames boathouse, we spurted, and came up a length. Unfortunately we were unable to maintain it, and Home Boarders drew ahead and won by several lengths.

Although this year we managed to get into the final merely by rowing hard, without paying much attention to style, we cannot hope to win the Rudder until we have a crew who have all had more experience. Next year Bevan and Jacomb-Hood, who have both been in the boat since 1917, will have left; let those who remain, by dint of assiduous practice and hard rowing, bring Grant's into the position which it should occupy in Water, and the Town Boy Rudder into a frequent resting-place up Grant's.

INSTALLATION OF THE KNIGHTS OF THE BATH.

On the morning of Tuesday, the 18th of May, the School took part in the ancient and time-honoured ceremony of the Installation of the Knights of the Bath. The King's Scholars were admitted into the Abbey as stewards, but of the doings of these we know little. The rest of the School, in their capacity as an Officers' Training Corps, formed a Guard of Honour along the South and West Cloisters, from which vantage point they witnessed the procession.

It was an extraordinarily solemn sight to see these old men, most of them grave, some pompous, and some blind or crippled in their country's service, pacing slowly round the Cloisters in their brilliant scarlet robes and the ribbons of the Order and their cocked hats in their hands. It made the solemn, old Cloisters, which generally have no colour to brighten them save the sunlight on the Cloister Garth, a wonderful blaze of gay colours.

Anon the voices of the choir-boys were heard singing a Psalm and the stately procession started on its way. First came the Abbey verger bearing his rod, then the Canons and minor Canons, clad in their full-dress robes, the minor Canons in cloth of gold and the Canons in white silk embroidered in blue. Next the Dean, bearing the "oath and admonition fairly engrossed on vellum," the oath which binds every man to draw his sword in defence of his King. Then came the Knights, naval and military, in all the glory of their full-dress uniforms, over which hung the scarlet silk robes of the Order. The breasts of many of them bore that coveted honour, the Victoria Cross, and nearly all bore a medal of some sort for bravery.

Finally came the King in naval uniform with a train uplifted by two pages. As Sovereign of the Order, he wore the blood-red robe of the Order, and in his hand carried his naval cocked hat. The procession slowly passed along the Cloisters to the accompaniment of the choir singing Psalms. The Abbey door swung open, the Guards' band ceased, trumpets rang out clear and sharp, and the procession passed into the Abbey to begin the solemn service of swearing fealty to a Sovereign Lord.

O.T.C.

The annual inspection was held up Fields this term on Thursday, July 8th, again being conducted by an old Grantite, Major-General Sir N. M. Smyth, V.C., K.C.B. Although the number of parades this term has been severely limited, the Corps was both efficient in drill and smart in its general turn out, and Major-General Smyth seemed to be genuinely pleased with our performance. He mentioned that although we were an Officers' Training Corps, we could not hope to become efficient officers in the Corps alone, and he advised those who were leaving to join, if they could, one of the corps d'élite of the Territorial Force, such as the Queen's Westminster Rifles or the London Scottish.

Camp will be held this year from July 27th to August 5th, at Tidworth Pennings, where it was held in 1917. Thirteen Grantites will be present.

The following N.C.O.'s are now up Grant's:—Sgt. P. J. S. Bevan, Cpl. S. F. P. Jacomb-Hood, and Lce.-Cpls. J. R. Peacock, G. P. Stevens, and D. S. F. Vernon.

SENIORS.

FIRST ROUND—GRANT'S v. ASHBURNHAM.

This match was started on Wednesday, June 16th, and ended after a very exciting match in a victory to Grant's by three wickets.

Ashburnham won the toss and batted first, their innings being opened by Holden and Stonier to the bowling of Hartley, W., and Fevez. When 9 had been scored Stonier was bowled by Fevez, and 12 runs later Hartley bowled Holden. Munt then came in and settled down and played very well, but wickets continued to fall quickly, and at 93 Munt was caught by McBride for a well-played 43. The stand of the innings was made by the last wicket, 40 runs being added before Munt was caught by Carr off Frampton. The innings closed for 141.

McBride and Frampton opened Grant's innings to the bowling of Munt and Stonier. Grant's suffered an early loss, for when 4 had been scored Frampton hit his wicket, but on Peacock going in runs came quickly and the score was carried to 46 before Peacock was well stumped by Bentwich. Fevez failed, and Hartley played confidently from the beginning of his innings. Just before time McBride was caught at the wicket for a carefully played 18.

On resuming a week later Hartley continued to play very well, but could find no one to stay with him, and eventually he was l.b.w., in endeavouring to secure the bowling, for an invaluable innings of 49. The innings closed for 113, thus leaving Ashburnham with a valuable lead of 28. Stonier and Holden again opened the A.H.H. innings to the bowling of Hartley and Fevez. At 7 Hartley bowled Holden, and at 16 Stonier was well taken at the wicket by Hartley, R., off Fevez. Runs came at a great pace after this until at 58 Munt was well run out by Hartley, W. From this point the whole side collapsed and were all out for 73. Carr, going on with the score at 62 for 4, took 4 wickets for 7, Fevez taking 4 wickets for 29. Grant's were thus left with 101 to win, but made a disastrous start, 7 wickets being down for 62. But Hartley, W., again rose to the occasion, and in partnership with Stevens pulled the game round, and amidst great excitement Grant's won as stated by 3 wickets. Hartley played magnificently in both innings, and in the second innings made 45 not out, while Stevens kept his end up very well and made 18 not out.

FINAL.—GRANT'S v. RIGAUD'S.

Grant's won the toss, and decided to bat on a hard wicket. Frampton and McBride opened Grant's innings, to the bowling of Berryman and Cowan. Runs came fairly quickly, but at 22 Frampton was bowled by Berryman, after making 15. Peacock was next in, but could get no one to settle down with him, until the advent of Fevez, and 28 was added before Fevez succumbed to Cowan. Hornsby and Hartley, R., were soon dismissed, and at 99 Peacock was caught by Duttson off Berryman, for a well-played 47, in which he hit three 4's and six 3's. Stevens and Swann now made a stand and added 39 between them, Swann making 19 in which he hit four 4's. Abady and Carr hit about with some luck, and the innings closed for the respectable total of 153.

With an hour and a half to go, Percival and Blaker opened for Rigaud's to the bowling of Fevez and Hartley. Blaker soon settled down, but Percival never looked really comfortable. The scoring was somewhat slow. After an hour and a quarter's play Blaker was run out by calling for a hopeless run. The score was now 55, of which Blaker had contributed a faultless 30. Berryman was now in, and the score was carried to 67 before stumps were drawn. On resuming on the next day, Berryman soon settled down, and runs came quickly, Berryman being eventually caught at cover by a brilliant catch of McBride's after making a hard-hit 59, and with Percival had carried the score to 144. Cowan was clean bowled second ball by Fevez, but after Percival's dismissal by an excellent ball from Fevez, Haine and Thomas stayed together for the addition of 40, before Haine was claimed successfully as l.b.w. After this the innings closed quickly for the addition of 20.

Grant's now had a difficult task before them, as they required 79 to avert an inning's defeat. Grant's had to bat after fielding the whole afternoon. McBride and Stevens opened for Grant's. The first five minutes were disastrous, McBride being bowled second ball by Cowan, and Stevens was out to an off break from Berryman. Peacock and Frampton now stayed in, and kept their end up until stumps were drawn. The next day proved as disastrous as the one before, Frampton being bowled by Cowan, on the addition of 7, Hartley, W., was l.b.w. to Berryman his first over, and Peacock was bowled Berryman's next over. Except for an excellent stand by Fevez, during which he made a well-played 34, making several nice shots, Grant's innings closed uneventfully for the poor total of 89.

Rigaud's, who were now set with the easy task of making 10, sent in Cowan and Blaker, but Cowan again failed, being caught by a good catch in the deep by Peacock, for 1 run. Thomas now came in, and Blaker, by means of some good off drives, secured the necessary runs.

SENIOR CRITICISMS.

D. J. Fevez played regularly for the team this year. He bowls well and uses his head. His batting has improved considerably during the latter part of the term.

J. R. Peacock played very well all through seniors. He is a very useful bat with plenty of style and makes runs. He is an excellent field.

W. L. Hartley played very well against Ashburnham. He hits the ball hard and hits the right ball. A fair bowler and good field.

W. B. Frampton bowled well in the finals. As a batsman he did not come up to expectations. He is a very fair field.

G. T. Swann played well in the final, but was disappointing on the whole as a bat. He has apparently forgotten that he could bowl two years ago; he is a very good field.

W. N. McBride is a patient bat, but has a peculiar style of his own, but is an extremely useful bat to have on the side. He is a good field and an excellent catch.

R. W. Hartley should in time make a very good wicket-keeper, but at present lacks experience. He kept very well against A.H.H., but fell off considerably in the Rigaud's match. His batting, with improvement, will be very good.

G. P. Stevens played very well v. A.H.H.; he plays with a very straight bat, and should next season make many runs. His fielding leaves plenty of room for improvement.

H. T. Abady never came up to expectations as a bowler, but should do well next year. His batting leaves room for improvement.

A. E. Carr bowled with some luck v. A.H.H., and should next year be a very useful change bowler. His batting leaves much to be desired.

J. M. Hornsby failed as a batsman but fielded very well in both the matches. He should be very useful to the House in years to come.

JUNIORS.

FIRST ROUND.—GRANT'S v. K.SS.

This match was started on Tuesday, June 1st. Grant's won the toss and McBride and Hartley, R., opened the innings for them. McBride opened the scoring by hitting Wood to leg for 5 and driving Blair for 4 in the next. The College bowlers did not find a length and both batsmen scored freely at a good rate. With the score at 34, Cocks relieved Blair, and at 61 Gorman, R., went on instead of Wood. When 86 had been scored Hartley was run out for a good innings of 40. Hornsby came in and settled down, and with McBride still scoring at a fair pace, play was stopped for the day. On resuming Wood and Blair started the bowling, and Wood bowled McBride with an easy ball for an invaluable 60. Hornsby continued to bat well, but the only batsman to do anything else was Randolph, who hit hard and had plenty of luck, but his innings was a valuable one. He eventually was undefeated with 77 to his credit. The innings closed for 287.

Wood and Blair started the K.SS. innings to the bowling of Main and Lashmore. The bowlers kept a good length, and in a short time Blair and Wood were out to Main. College made a poor show, only a few batsmen making any attempt to play the bowling. Mounsey, C. O., going in towards the end of the innings, took three wickets in two overs, and quickly finished off the innings, which amounted to 122.

McBride and Hartley again opened our innings, and both scored freely. Hartley made another 40, and McBride played very well and got 95. Of the rest, Randolph again hit well for 27.

K.SS. fared very badly in their second innings and were all out for 88.

Lashmore bowled very well and took 7 wickets for 33, and Murphy also bowled well and took 3 for 14.

Thus Grant's won by about 200 runs.

FINAL ROUND.—GRANT'S v. H.BB.

Grant's drew a bye in the second round and had to play H.BB. in the finals. We were badly beaten by 9 wickets.

It had been arranged owing to the shortage of time to play a one-innings match.

Grant's won the toss and batted first. Hartley and McBride put on 33 for the first wicket before McBride was bowled by Salvi. Then Hornsby and Hartley played well and took the score to 55 for one, when the whole side collapsed and were all out for 79. Hartley played well for 29. For H.B.B. Salvi bowled very well, taking 7 wickets at a small cost.

H.B.B. went in, and their innings was opened by Wilson and Clare, C., to the bowling of Mounsey, C. O., and Lashmore. With the score at 10, Wilson was bowled by Mounsey, but on Massingham going in the bowling was hit all over the field, and with both batsmen well set the game was easily won by H.B.B. by 9 wickets.

Clare, C., and Massingham both played well, making 34 not out and 31 not out respectively.

SHOOTING.

This year is the first time since 1914 that the Inter-House Shooting Competition has been fired at Bisley. Grant's had quite a steady four, and although we came out fourth, the House in front of us was very little ahead.

Many of us have been going regularly to Bisley for practice on Wednesdays, but for those who take cricket it is rather difficult to get both things in.

The scores were :—

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of THE GRANTITE REVIEW.

DEAR SIR,

Your letter demanding information as to the doings of Grantites at Oxford comes at a very unwelcome moment, as we are in the midst of well-earned relaxation after the strenuous life of the past term. However, your letter is so appealing that we will do our best.

Mr. W. T. Stallybrass of B.N.C. we have not seen, but doubtless that is our own fault. Mr. C. E. Langton is very cheerful, despite his loss of eye-sight. It was wonderful to see him dancing, with evident enjoyment, at the Ch. Ch. Ball. Mr. M. G. Hewins seems to be a member of about fifteen societies and president or secretary of at least ten. In spite of this, looking wiser than ever in a new pair of glasses, he led the attack on the local profiteer with successful results, while his fame as an Historian is on the increase, although he, unfortunately, failed to become a scholar. What he would have looked like in a scholar's gown we hardly dare to guess. Mr. A. C. Morgan, immaculately dressed, came up from town for the Commem. Balls. When in residence he shines in Peck Quad. (no reference is here intended as to the state of his hair).

Mr. P. R. Rea is coming into residence again next term—that is, if the examiners think fit. He had, unfortunately, to take a short rest, after his strenuous efforts while founding the Liberal Club. Mr. P. C. A. Usher and Mr. F. J. Warburg walk hand in hand—need we say more? Of Mr. G. R. Reitlinger we know nothing, except that he is a great adornment to the “House.” We understand that he is reading History, but since his efforts for distinction during the Lent Term he has rather sunk into oblivion.

Mr. Robert Holmes is the same as ever. Whether as the villain on the cinema drinking lime-juice in mistake for something stronger, or as the shocked parson, it matters not. He plays tennis and buys books, to fill his bookshelves, while his champagne luncheons are unsurpassed. Mr. H. J. Salwey was in a studious mood and again successfully bluffed the examiners. The only occasion on which he was seen to bathe last term was unintentionally while punting. Although he has become Hon. Sec. of the 2nd House Soccer XI., his “little head” does not seem to have grown much. Mr. C. M. Cahn has been playing tennis vigorously, but with Honour Mods. looming in the near future, he is usually to be seen pouring over his books. We congratulate Mr. E. H. Samuel on his engagement. He eats and drinks and goes to bed, and perhaps does other things, but dwelling with the high and mighty at Balliol, we have some excuse for knowing little of him.

Sir, our task is finished. We sincerely hope that we have omitted no one, and that those we have mentioned will neither take offence nor discover our identity.

Yours, etc.,

EX AEDE CHRISTI.
