EDITORIAL.

A few years ago an attempt was made to institute a literary supplement to "The Grantite Review," but owing to the fact that it was not unanimously agreed that the House paper was the right medium for this type of writing, it has now ceased, temporarily at least, to exist. It is intended in future to include in the magazine only matter definitely relating to the House—either directly, such as the history of its recent fortunes, or less directly, as in the case of the news and reminiscences of past members. That it should publish pertinent information of this kind is, we submit, a House's sole justification for producing a periodical. The literary work of schoolboys, even if it is admitted to be worth printing, has no place in a chronicle such as this. Now, although this is our conviction, we are not blind to the fact that there may not be universal agreement on this point; and, therefore, in order that we may learn the wishes of the readers of this paper, any who hold firmly decided opinions as to the way in which it should be run are invited to address their suggestions to the Editor. In this way the magazine will be performing one of its most important functions, namely, to provide opportunity for the free discussion of controversial subjects connected with the House.

I have been asked to write to the "Grantite" some recollections of what happened at Westminster nearly fifty years ago. It was in my first year that the conditions under which the Pancake Grease took place were altered. Previously to that, the whole school took part in the scrimmage, but Dr. Rutherford disapproved and ordered the selection of one boy in each form to compete, the remainder only to look on,

Well, the comparatively mild scrimmage took place and the Headmaster departed, but about five minutes afterwards one of the senior King's scholars donned the cook's apron, etc., and, substituting a book for the pancake, the time-honoured Grease took place, only to be interrupted by the return of the Headmaster, accompanied by the Sergeant. All the doors were closed, and a list of all boys present was attempted. Eventually it ended with the Headmaster visiting each form and giving some mild punishment to each offender, but it was the last of the old-time Greases. My Housemaster was distinctly a character, and amongst the stories which were current in my day about his occasional absentmindedness the following used to amuse us. One day, having forgotten something and feeling uncomfortable in consequence, he told a boy in his class to go to the house and ask his wife for his teeth, which he had forgotten, and which would be found in the biscuit tin on the sideboard in the dining room.

The final competition for the first Town Boy House Football Shield was rather peculiar. There were eleven shields, and Rigaud's and Grant's had each won it five years. Rigaud's were exceptionally strong, having four pinks and two pink and whites, but chicken-pox had broken out up Grant's, and their only pink and only pink and white were amongst the victims. This left E. G. Moon, who had only his "thirds," to captain Grant's. He called a meeting at 2 p.m. to decide whether we should play or scratch. We played, and the result of 3—0 against us justified our presumption.

Towards the end of my time Queen Victoria celebrated her Jubilee in the Abbey, and there was considerable discussion in the school, and even in Parliament, as to whether Westminster School, as a whole, would have tickets in the Abbey. There was no precedent and it was not a Coronation, and even Coronation customs were a bit vague to us after fifty years. It was eventually decided that only from the Shell upwards should be allowed to go.

At that time the Irish were making considerable trouble and it was feared that an attempt might be made to blow up the Abbey on Jubilee Day. I believe all the workmen employed in the Abbey were stationed on the roof—anyhow, report vouched for the fact that there was one boy in the Upper Form of the school who was so sure that the Abbey would be blown sky-high that he refused to be present there.

W. N. WINCKWORTH.

THE PLAY SUPPER.

Hall had been decorated as skilfully as ever by the Chiswickites, and after the usual sumptuous meal had been eaten Mr. Willett proposed the Royal Toast. This done, a round of crackers was the signal for general cracker pulling and the throwing of paper streamers, which were soon hanging thickly from the decorations suspended from the ceiling. The Head of the House then rose, and first thanking Miss Tice on behalf of everyone present for the excellent supper, outlined the athletic fortunes of the House in the past year. Although, he said, we had lost the football shield, being compelled to field a side much weakened by sickness, we had held the cricket shield, winning the final with unexpected ease. Our juniors were strong, and this was a hopeful sign; the cricket side had won the Juniors Cup. Although the football team had been disappointingly beaten, they had shown previously that they were capable of far better football than they had played in the final. After a few more remarks Bompas ended by thanking Mr. Willett very gratefully for the assistance and counsel he unfailingly gave when it was needed. Mr. Willett's health was then drunk, and in reply he began by telling us of the difficulty he found every year in making this speech. But this difficulty was, as usual, in no way apparent in the amusing one which followed, and his excellent manner of relating two good stories gave us great enjoyment. Mr. Willett then brought his speech to an end by proposing the health of the monitors. The Old Grantites were next toasted, and Mr. C. H. Bompas, replying for them, told us a story about an elephant. The new boys then sang their songs, and a touch of novelty was introduced by a failure of the lights. Doll, however, continued to sing, unperturbed and unaccompanied until the arrival of candles. But the electric lights soon shone again, and the entertainment continued. In addition to the new boys, James, R. and Saunders sang a duet, while Turner and Bury, J. were accompanied by Everington on an accordion, and Preston, who, with Cardew, had shared the task of accompanying the singers, on the piano. After this Mr. N. P. Andrews sang us some of his songs, including the old favourite with the refrain "Hulla baloo belay." Dr. Everington then gave an excellent display of conjuring to which his amusing patter gave the last professional touch. A most enjoyable evening was then brought to an end by the singing of "D'ye ken John Peel" and "Auld Lang Syne."

JUNIORS.

SEMI-FINAL ROUND.

We drew a bye in Juniors, and our first game was against Rigaud's, whom we beat 7—0. The ground was frozen hard and there was little wind. Although we had expected to win the game, Rigaud's had the moral support of a 13—1 victory over Busby's in the preliminary round played a week before. However, soon after Rigaud's had kicked off down the hill, our doubts were dispelled, for we carried the game into their half immediately. First Cunliffe, and then Doll, shot, but the pressure on the Rigaud's defence was relieved by a free kick for an infringement of the off-side rule. Grant's soon returned, however, and there followed a number of corners accurately kicked by Laurie. In a race for the ball Laurie beat the goalkeeper, but kicked it straight at him. Rigaud's cleared, and their forwards attacked for the first time. Play moved swiftly from one end to the other, until Laurie, trapping a punt from the Rigaud's goalkeeper, passed nicely up the middle, and Doll followed up to score our first goal. Shortly afterwards a good pass from Cunliffe sent Laurie away on the right, and we pressed again. Rigaud's conceded a number of corners on both wings, and Winckworth, James and Laurie all had shots. From a scramble near the goal Rigaud's cleared away to Wilkinson, who, over twenty yards out, took his time and put in a fine shot which the diminutive goalkeeper had no chance of reaching. Rigaud's gained little by their next kick-off, for we pressed again at once. The ball came in from our left wing, and the goalkeeper could not get rid of it before Doll was upon him. The ball was knocked from the goalkeeper's hands and Winckworth was up to put it in the goal. There followed next a period of midfield play. We attacked once more, however, when Winckworth gave Laurie an accurate pass up the wing; but although Rigaud's were forced to give us several more corners half-time came with the score still 3—0.

After the restart, Rigaud's pressed, but Sherriff was never severely tested. We broke away again and Laurie finished a fast rush with a good goal scored from the wing. Our next goal came from a kick down the left wing; Woodbridge gathered it, and, despite efforts to barge him off the ball, ran through to score with a good shot. This made our total five. Budgett started the next attack, and Woodbridge, following up a shot from Cunliffe, made the goalkeeper throw behind. Rigaud's cleared the corner, but Budgett dribbled up and passed to Woodbridge, who just failed to score. We next scored from a scramble in the goal area, for one of the defenders kicked the ball into his own goal. Laurie and Budgett were both concerned in attacks on the right wing, and a centre from the latter enabled Doll to score our seventh and last goal. It was now almost dark, and the remainder of the play was, for the most part, scrappy; the only feat worthy of note being a magnificent dribble by Budgett, who beat the whole of Rigaud's defence, and narrowly missed scoring.

The game was played keenly throughout, and the passing on our side showed considerable thought. Rigaud's greatest disadvantage lay in the inability of their forwards to penetrate our burly defence; our backs, however, were inclined to hold the ball too long, and against a stronger attack this might well be disastrous. The way in which our forwards followed up any shots at goal might be used as a pattern for any eleven in the school.

The teams were :—

Rigaud's—L. F. Phillipson; J. G. Barradale, L. E. D. F. Joubert; J. M. Tasker, J. D. Stocker, A. P. de Boer; T. H. G. Tasker, P. H. H. Jessop, H. J. C. Cotter, F. F. Richardson, W. H. F. Kendall.

Grant's— J. L. Sherriff; R. G. Reed, R. B. Stock; R. C. T. James, H. A. Budgett, D. L. Wilkinson; A. R. Laurie, A. N. Winckworth, J. C. S. Doll, D. F. Cunliffe, J. W. Woodbridge.

THE FINAL OF JUNIORS.

The game was played up Fields on Tuesday, December 12th between Grant's and Homeboarders. Grant's won the toss and decided to play towards Westminster Cathedral (north-west). The day was cold and rather misty, but light considering the lateness of the year. There was a faint wind to begin with which died down later; the ground was hard and the ball light. Mr. C. H. Taylor was referee.

Homeboarders, who were playing in colours, kicked off at a few minutes past 2.30 p.m. The game proceeded with some energy for about half an hour, without any remarkable play besides the usual series of attacks, repulses, and to-and-fro kicking in the middle of the field. About five free kicks were given during this period of the game, but only one to Grant's.

At about 3 p.m. the first goal of the game was scored by Homeboarders. A formidable attack on the Homeboarder right wing burst through Grant's defence, and Eyre aimed a long shot at Grant's goal. Grant's left back, Reed, missed it and, by a stroke of bad luck the right-half, James, miskicked it just in front of goal so that the ball spun round in a semi-circle into the corner of the goal, Sherriff being taken quite by surprise by the ball's movements.

From now till half-time Grant's began a series of energetic attacks, shooting five times; but the shots were poor, either wide or from too far away, and Homeboarders had little difficulty in repulsing them.

At 3.7 p.m. the whistle was blown and the sides ceased play for a five-minute interval. After half-time Grant's continued their spirited attacks and had much the better of the game for the whole of the next half. Two movements burst through the Homeboarders' defence within five minutes one being saved by Forbes running out of goal, and the other, carried right up to the mouth of the Homeboarders' goal, was only cleared with difficulty. Later, an excellent shot by the Grant's centre-forward, Doll, was saved at the expense of a corner. There followed two or three attacks by Homeboarders which were easily repelled by Grant's, who began to press. The ball went to corner at Homeboarders' end of the field and Grant's managed to keep it there for several minutes, this attack being ended by a brilliant shot by Grant's outside right, Laurie, which equalised the score. There remained about 15 minutes to play. For a while Homeboarders took the offensive and Instone achieved one good shot, just saved by Sherriff, but soon the tables were turned and Grant's began to press. Budgett, Grant's centre-half, distinguished himself by a fine long shot, saved, however, by Forbes. Just before the whistle blew for time Homeboarders were pressing, but all the players were tired by now, the pace was slowing down, and they had no forwards who could shoot hard and accurately. Six free kicks were given during this half of the game, three to each side. The score was one-all, but as the light remained quite good the referee decided that they should play on for another fifteen minutes.

Homeboarders kicked off, playing towards the south-east, and seemed to have the best of the game. At about 3.55 p.m. a vigorous attack up their right wing by the Homeboarders' forwards broke through Grant's defence. Instone was approaching the goal with the ball and no Grant's backs anywhere near; Reed, however, managed to head him off and the back's tackle caused Instone's ground shot to spin round along an arc into the corner of the goal, just eluding Sherriff. At 4 p.m. the whistle blew for half-time and Grant's kicked off, playing south-east. For the remaining seven and a half minutes Grant's pressed and attacked desperately. Two good shots by the outside right, Laurie, and by the inside right, A. N. Winckworth, were saved by Forbes. At 4.8 p.m. the whistle blew for time, and Homeboarders had won 2—1.

In this match the result was surprising, for Grant's were favourites, and, on paper, far better than their opponents. But Homeboarders had the most remarkable luck in scoring their two goals, and had a very good goalkeeper, without whom they could hardly have won the match. Moreover, though Grant's were playing well as individuals, they did not play as a team at all. Homeboarders, on the other hand, played together, and that gave them a great advantage. There was little connection between the Grant's forward line; and an outside left, whose shooting equalled, or surpassed, that of any other forward, was hardly used at all. The Grant's backs and half-backs tackled and kicked excellently, but, with the exception of Budgett, the centre-half, they did not seem to bother about passing to their forwards at all. Homeboarders' centre-half, Holliday, was, it is true, a tower of strength to his side, and intercepted many forward kicks, but the lack of passing and constructive play which characterised Grant's Juniors side on that day could not be attributed to him.

The teams were :—

Homeboarders.—P. F. L. Forbes; D. A. A. Duncan, C. E. Akerhielm; J. H. T. Barley, G. Holliday, C. W. Pullen; R. B. S. Instone, A. E. F. C. Long, A. W. Eyre, K. G. Neal, E. A. Sinclair.

Grant's.—J. L. Sherriff; R. G. Reed, R. B. Stock; R. C. T. James, H. A. Budgett, D. L. Wilkinson; A. R. Laurie, A. N. Winckworth, J. C. S. Doll, D. F. Cunliffe, J. W. Woodbridge.

JUNIORS CRITICISMS.

A. N. Winckworth (Capt.). A hard-working captain with a good knowledge of the game who occasionally produces a really good piece of football, but who wants to learn to open the game up much more.

D. F. Cunliffe. A good footballer on his day, although handicapped by his size; but he, too, often loses his form, and so has not come on as much as was expected.

R. G. Reed. A powerful back with a good tackle but not too certain kick; fast, but ought to learn to use his head more.

H. A. Budgett. A really good centre-half who knows what he is doing; dribbles well and is not afraid of backing up when the forwards are attacking.

D. L. Wilkinson. Small, but a real hard worker, who thinks and looks when in possession of the ball; has a safe tackle and follows up well in the attack.

J. W. Woodbridge. A plucky little player, fast and kicks well with both feet. He should look up more and learn to co-operate with his inside.

A. R. Laurie. Hangs back rather too much for a winger, but scored two good goals. He, too, should learn to co-operate with his inside.

R. B. Stock. On the whole, a good safe back who is seldom hurried; has a strong kick and uses his head well.

R. C. T. James. On account of his size he could overtake his man easily and went hard, but having got the ball, wasted his pass by not looking up, and kicking wildly. Should improve both these points.

J. L. Sheriff. Could save most balls not on the ground, but rather uncertain when they were. A good punt.

J. C. S. Doll. A centre-forward who will improve. He has thrust, a good kick, and does not lose his head when on his own.

THE WATER.

This term Grant's has the respectable number of fourteen watermen. Nevertheless, I should like to see even more Grantites down at Putney, as the larger the number of watermen up a House, the greater its chances of success. There have been no Grantites rowing regularly in the Senior Trials this term, but in the Junior there have been at least three, which is an encouraging sign. On several occasions there have been as many as five, which I think is the greatest number for at least five years. We hope to see three Grantites rowing in the fourth eight in the Election Term.

All watermen will regret the fact that Gibson, the old boatman, has left after serving the school for twelve years with patience, industry and resource. He is retiring on account of age and ill-health, and in his place we welcome Brocklesby.

The Grant's House four this year was much better than last year. The crew improved tremendously during the practice outings, and had several really good outings, with good balance and plenty of work. We were lucky in getting Mr. I. D. Lloyd, O.W., to coach us on several occasions. As the date of the race grew nearer we really began to think that we should give Ashburnham a good race.

On the day of the race conditions could not conceivably have been worse. The water was very bad indeed and, to make matters worse, Grant's had the worse station—Surrey. Grant's got a bad start, and at once began to ship water. We could not hold Ashburnham, who took hardly any water in their boat, owing partly to their better station and partly to their superior watermanship. Ashburnham drew steadily ahead until the end of the football ground. Then Grant's got into better water and reduced the gap a bit; but the effort was too much, and Ashburnham won comfortably by about four lengths. Water was lying inches deep in our boat within the first two minutes. It was quite impossible to raise the rate of striking in such conditions. The crew rowed well together considering the conditions, and cox steered a good course. It is quite certain that if the water had been smoother we could have got within about a length of Ashburnham.

After the race J. G. Boyd was awarded his Junior House colours.

W. H. C. C.-S.

CRITICISMS OFF THE GRANT'S IV.

E. O. Watson (Bow). He improved a lot during the outings and worked hard all through. He is inclined to rush forward in his slide and must remedy this by slowing up the last part forward so as to get a real drive off the stretcher on the beginning of the stroke. If he sticks to it, he will be a good oar.

K. S. Saunders (2). He is a promising oar and has a neat finish. He also is inclined to rush forward on his slide and must concentrate especially on slowing it up the last part of the swing forward.

H. C. E. Johnson (3). He worked very hard during all the outings. At present he rather topples forward on his slide, and has not learnt to catch it. He is also inclined to swing out of the boat, which of course upsets the balance. If he could cure these faults he would be a good oar, as he is very keen and has plenty of weight.

W. H. C. C.-S.

W. H. C. Cleveland-Stevens (Stroke). This oarsman has made considerable progress this term. His strength and determination make him a great asset in a crew which is not called upon to row a fast stroke. Although he is far less stiff and clumsy than he was, he would probably be rather left behind in a crew dashing off the start at 44 strokes a minute. But he has overcome the habit of digging, and his blade work is sometimes clean and good. His wrists at the finish had more flexibility and a lighter balance on the oar coming forward. His swing is often very good.

A. H. F.

J. H. Boyd (Cox). Steered a good course during the race. He is inclined to use the rudder excessively. He must learn to alter the rudder between the strokes. He urged the crew on very well in the race.

W. H. C. C.-S.

BOXING.

Once again it was the House with the greatest number of entrants for the boxing competition which won the Cup, and Grant's can expect little success at boxing until more members of the House attend the efficient and well-instructed classes now held. This term the finals, instead of being fought off at odd times, were all decided on the last afternoon of term. Grant's came fourth with only $4\frac{1}{2}$ points, while Rigaud's were the winners with $34\frac{1}{2}$ points.

The two Grantites who were boxing in the 7-stone division, namely Hart and Woodbridge, were drawn against each other. As Hart had never done any boxing before it was not surprising that Woodbridge won fairly easily. Woodbridge went on to beat Orbach, and so qualify for the final. Here his opponent was Neal, a boxer of considerable experience and a long reach. The fight was very close indeed and Neal's straight left only beat Woodbridge's greater speed by the narrowest of margins. Woodbridge's trouble is that he is left-handed, and until he learns to use his right he will never realise his full powers. His method of attack at the moment is to go in with two hands, an ineffective right being followed by a quick left. The sooner he learns to hit with his right hand and develop a straight left to mix with the present attack, the better for his boxing.

Patterson was the only Grantite boxing at 8 stone. He was unfortunate to meet Ivanovic, a fast and clever boxer, in his first fight. He should not be discouraged by this defeat, for if he perseveres he should do well. In the 8 stone 7 lb. weight, Budgett met Kendall. Budgett used his left hand effectively, but was eliminated by a hard-hitting opponent who is considerably older than himself. In the weight above this Waterfield was the only Grantite. He met Wallis in his first fight and was unable to disconcert an accurate and powerful boxer. Turner, although he has learnt no boxing, was entered for the 9 stone 7 lb. weight, in which he met Knowles. Both went at top speed for the three rounds, and although Turner's heavy punches had Knowles groggy in the third round, he was too tired to follow up his advantage, with the result that he lost on points.

In the middle-weight there were three Grantites. James, R. met Shinnie, and, after three rounds of wary boxing by both parties, lost on points. Watson and Bompas were drawn against each other, and the latter won in the first round. Bompas then beat Shinnie in a not very convincing manner, and so qualified to meet Beyts in the final again. He boxed better than last year for the short time he was in the ring, and the score was even until Beyts connected with a right from which Bompas was too slow to recover to be allowed to continue.

E. A. B.

SWIMMING.

The swimming competition or Splash Night, which was held on December 11th, proved a great Grantite success. Before the swimming sports of last Election Term none seriously regarded Grant's as a potential swimming House. However, at those sports Grant's took second place, but were a great many points behind the winners, Busby's. But at this recent competition Grant's won with 8 points to Busby's 6, despite the fact that the latter House undoubtedly has the two best swimmers in the school in Ivanovic and Currier.

However, several Grantites have been taking their swimming very seriously this term, and also the skill among some younger members of the House points to greater success in the future. In the open events, Waterfield and Mills came second in the free-style and breast stroke races respectively. But the successful swimming of Cunliffe, who, in the under 15 division, won both free-style and breast stroke races, was Grant's most material gain. In the under 17, Aggs also swam extremely well to finish second in both races. These four gained Grant's points, but it was most encouraging to see the good standard of other swimmers, the best of whom were Laurie, James, R., Reed and Cleveland-Stevens, W.

"THE GRANTITE REVIEW."

It was found during the term that many back numbers of "The Grantite Review" were missing from the series which is in the possession of the House. It is considered desirable that a complete and permanent record of its activities should be kept by the House, and so efforts are being made to fill in the gaps in the series. Old Grantites who are willing to part with issues they may have would greatly oblige by sending along any of the following:—

- Vol. I. Nos. 1, 8, 11, 13, 15, 16, 17, 18.
- Vol. II. No. 1.
- Vol. III. Nos. 1, 9, 10.
- Vol. IV. Nos. 5, 10, 12, 13.
- Vol. V. Nos. 7, 9, 10, 13, 14.
- Vol. VI. Nos. 4, 6, 8, 9, 13, 14, 15, 16.
- Vol. VII. Nos. 1, 2, 3, 5, 7, 8, 10, 11, 12.
- Vol. VIII. Nos. 3, 4, 5, 6, 10.
- Vol. XI. Nos. 12, 13.
- Vol. XII. Nos. 1, 2, 10.
- Vol. XIII. Nos. 9, 10, 12.
- Vol. XIV. Nos. 6, 8.

PHOTOS OF HOUSE GROUPS.

An attempt has been made during the term to clean, date and name a number of photos of House groups which have hitherto lain in a pile up Grant's. The old photos have been removed by experts from their old and unwieldy mountings and placed in albums where they will form a permanent photographic record of the House and its victorious Seniors teams. As was expected, however, the record is by no means complete at present. The first group in our possession which pictures the whole House was taken in the Election Term of 1886. Subsequent photos which are missing are of the years 1887-8-9, 1892-3-4-5, 1917-19-20-21. If Old Grantites who are willing to part with their copies would send along photos of House groups of these years, and also photos of any Seniors teams taken before 1920 (all with names attached, if possible), they would merit the sincere thanks of the House. It is advised that the photos be very carefully packed in stout cardboard, as it has been found that if this is not done the old mountings crumple in the post and render the photos useless.

THE OLD GRANTITE CLUB.

THE ANNUAL DINNER.

The Annual Dinner of the Club will be held at the Criterion Restaurant, Piccadilly, on Wednesday, April 11th, 1934, at 7 o'clock for 7.30 o'clock.

"Giovanni", reputed to be a wizard, has been engaged for the delight of members, and it is hoped that as many as possible will be able to attend, as the success of the evening is dependent on a thoroughly representative gathering.

Members will, of course, be notified nearer the date in the usual way.

CRICKET MATCH, JULY 7TH-8TH.

Mr. J. Spedan Lewis has invited a Cricket XI of Members of the Old Grantite Club to play a match against the Leckford Village XI, and has most generously asked us to be his guests while we are at Leckford Abbess.

It is proposed to catch a train about 1.30 p.m. on the Saturday and return to London on Sunday evening. Play will start after tea on Saturday and the match will be concluded on the Sunday.

Will members who wish to play send their names as early as possible to the Hon. Secretary, Arthur Garrard, 4, Charles Street, St. James' Square, S.W.1.

THE PLAY SUPPER.

The House master again invited several of the Club members to the Play Supper, and again they were entertained by his more than usual lavish hospitality.

The singers presented their programme with courage and determination.

A grand evening!
